

Coherus BioSciences Appoints Erik Wiberg as Executive Vice President of Corporate Development

REDWOOD CITY, Calif., March 27, 2017 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Coherus BioSciences, Inc. (Nasdaq:CHRS), today announced the appointment of Erik Wiberg as Executive Vice President of Corporate Development. Mr. Wiberg joins Coherus with more than 30 years of experience, including more than 18 years in various business development and corporate finance roles at biopharmaceutical companies, and 13 years in healthcare investment banking and equity research. In this position, Mr. Wiberg will be responsible for product licensing, corporate strategy, as well as M&A.

"We are very gratified to have a corporate development professional of Mr. Wiberg's caliber choose to join the Coherus team," said Denny Lanfear, President and Chief Executive Officer of Coherus. "2017 is a transformational year for Coherus, as we prepare our first product approval. Erik's proven track record of execution within corporate development will be critical to effectively achieving our business objectives."

Mr. Wiberg has extensive experience in corporate development, completing numerous out-licensing, in-licensing, merger and acquisition, and financing transactions and research & development collaborations that achieved corporate priorities and created significant value for shareholders at ALZA Corporation, Johnson & Johnson, Anacor Pharmaceuticals, Inc., and Catalyst Biosciences, Inc. Erik was most recently Senior Vice President, Strategy and Corporate Development at Anacor Pharmaceuticals, Inc. a company acquired by Pfizer in 2016 for $5.2 billion. He has also held leadership positions in corporate strategy, new product planning and portfolio management. Erik earned his dual degree in business and engineering from University of Pennsylvania, where he attended the Wharton School of Business and earned his Bachelor of Science in Economics, dual major in Finance and Accounting, and the School of Engineering and Applied Science where he earned his Bachelor of Applied Science with a major in Computer Science Engineering.

About Coherus BioSciences, Inc.

Coherus is a leading pure-play, global biosimilar company that develops and commercializes high-quality therapeutics for major regulated markets. Biosimilars are intended for use in place of existing, branded biologics to treat a range of chronic and often life-threatening diseases, with the potential to reduce costs and expand patient access. Composed of a team of proven industry veterans with world-class expertise in process science, analytical characterization, protein production, sales & marketing and clinical-regulatory development, Coherus is positioned as a leader in the global biosimilar marketplace. Coherus is advancing three late-stage clinical products towards commercialization, CHS-1701 (pegfilgrastim biosimilar), CHS-0214 (etanercept biosimilar) and CHS-1420 (adalimumab biosimilar), as well as developing a robust pipeline of future products in four therapeutic areas, oncology, immunology (anti-TNF), ophthalmology and multiple sclerosis.
